КАВООМ

A dramatic comic book illustration. At the top, the word 'КАВООМ' (Kavoom) is written in large, white, 3D block letters with a yellow glow. Below it, a large, intense fire with orange and yellow flames fills the left side of the frame. On the right, a wooden structure, likely the cabin of a ship, is shown falling or tipping over. Three people are on the structure: one person is crouching near the back, another is sitting, and a third person is hanging off the side. In the foreground, a dark horse is running towards the right, looking back over its shoulder at the falling structure. The background is a dark, stormy sky with rain falling diagonally.

WOAH!

A dramatic comic book illustration. In the upper left, a large, bright orange and yellow energy blast or explosion is shown with radiating lines. A white, jagged speech bubble with a black outline is positioned in the upper center, containing the text "LORD YLITLUBA!". The background is a deep blue sky with numerous white, curved motion lines suggesting a powerful force or movement. In the lower right, a dark, muscular character with horns or pointed ears is perched on the edge of a dark, rocky cliff, looking towards the left. The overall style is dynamic and action-oriented.

YLITLUBA!
